

Gati International:

Spreads wings to ASEAN; commences KL operations

CC BUREAU

Gati International, the leader in express distribution and supply chain solutions, has spread its wings further in the ASEAN region by commencing operations in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Gati Malaysia's new sales and marketing office is strategically located at the Maxis Tower in the heart of Kuala Lumpur City Centre (KLCC) with easy access to seaports and airport.

Malaysia holds a key position in the ASEAN region, exporting electrical and electronic goods, liquefied natural gas (LNG), palm oil and related products, petroleum and related products, timber and timber based products, chemicals and metals through seaports and airport. Malaysia imports products like machinery, appliances and articles, iron and steel products, chemicals and chemical products, food, mineral fuels, lubricants and transport equipments.

There are three major seaports in Gati International has spread its wings further in the ASEAN region by commencing operations in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Gati Malaysia's new sales and marketing office is strategically located at the Maxis Tower in the heart of Kuala Lumpur City Centre (KLCC) with easy access to seaports and airport.

Malaysia - Port Klang, Penang and Johor Bahru - and Kuala Lumpur International Airport commonly known as KLIA is one of Southeast Asia's largest aviation hubs. Gati Malaysia will offer services including Freight (Air and Sea), Express and Supply Chain solutions in the domestic and international markets from all parts of Malaysia to various destinations across the world.

Commenting on this latest offering from Gati, Sameer Khatri, Chief International Business Officer, Gati, said, "We are extremely happy to commence our operations from Malaysia which is a gateway to many global destinations. With this new addition to the Gati network, customers can expect a fast, reliable and customer oriented services." ❖

Sameer Khatri, Chief - International Business Officer, Gati Ltd.